URBAN MOBILITY CONFERENCE-2008

PREAMBLE

It has been envisaged in the National Urban Transport Policy, 2006 that “An annual urban transport conference would be institutionalized, to bring together urban transport professionals in the country to share their experiences. International experts would be invited to such a conference so that Indian professionals are able to exchange information and learn from developments and experiences abroad.”

The Ministry of Urban Development has decided to hold an Annual Conference & Exhibition on “Urban Mobility” to discuss various aspects of urban transport from 3rd to 5th December 2008 to coincide with launch of the JnNURM. The aim of this conference is to bring together all the Technologies and Service providers from all fields of urban transport including Pedestrian, NMV, Metro, Bus, BRTS, LRT, Trams, Parking and ITS etc as well as various International and National experts, policy makers and implementers under one roof.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the conference is to enable all those working in the field of urban transport to become aware of the best practices in the field of urban transport and of state of the art in the transport technologies and practices. The focus would be application oriented and awareness building rather than an academic conference. Hence the speakers would be drawn from those who have led the implementation and operation of best practices rather than those who have undertaken research for meeting academic requirements.

VENUE

The event is proposed to be held at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi. For the exhibition Hall No.- 6, which has already been booked and for the conference facility separate hall is being blocked.
